

Edward Muller

Edward was born in Lodz, Poland. When he was a young boy, he lived in England with the famous tenor singer Richard Tauber and his family. Unfortunately, during his time there, he never learned to sing, but he could dance like Gene Kelly! Edward was treated very well by Mr. Tauber and his family, but ran away at age 11 from fear of being sent back to Poland. After he ran away, he lived in West Germany for many years.

During World War II, Edward fought in the American Army. After the war, he came to Canada, where he worked on Baffin Island on the oil rigs. While he was there, he came across a polar bear while walking in the woods. The bear smelled the food that was cooking, and followed Edward to his cabin! Edward has a picture of this bear which he proudly shares with all the staff at Copernicus Lodge.

Later on in his life, Edward owned a hotel on Druillard Street in Windsor until he eventually settled down in Toronto.

Edward has travelled very much throughout his life. His favourite place to go is the Caribbean, where he learned to dance!
